INTRO (CENTER) TEXT

We all want change, but change is impossible if we continue to support and elect the same people and parties that created the system we have today and who profit by it. Our first goal is to convince Americans to only vote for candidates who support these three policies (1) Term Limits to end career politicians, (2) Rank Voting to eliminate the spoiler effect, (3) Equal Rules for 3rd Parties to give independent candidates an equal chance to be elected. These changes won't solve all our problems overnight, but they are a necessary first step for any meaningful change to happen.

RESET AMERICA

(Intro from previous website)

A Simple Plan to take back our Government

The Reset America plan is a peaceful transition of power that is guaranteed to us in our constitution. But unless it happens now, then this transition of power will not be a peaceful one.

Our Nation is Collapsing

Attention friends, neighbors and concerned Americans. I'm talking to you! We can no longer sit on the sidelines and watch our nation and world fall apart in the hands of self-serving 'leaders' who are only concerned with getting re-elected.

- We have lost all confidence in our government.
- We have lost our position as the most powerful nation in the world.
- Our health and quality of life are in peril.
- Our planet and civilization are collapsing.
- The future of democracy around the world is in jeopardy.

Think I'm being overly dramatic? You tell me. According to a recent popular study, "30% of Republicans and 12% of Democrats believe that "true American patriots" may have to resort to violence in order to save our country." (Public Religion Research Institute)

When will we ever learn?

Don't repeat the same mistake of going back and supporting the democrats just because a worse republican was president. Constant flip-flopping between two self-serving parties is not the answer. We are simply not going to change the system with the same people who created the very mess that we have today - and who profit by the system that they created.

Remember, the definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over expecting different results.

RESET AMERICA

(Book: Introduction)

Change only comes from Outside

I want to convince you that we can decide how we wish to be governed and not simply accept the model that's offered by the 2 parties.

Every revolutionary change always comes from outside the system. There can be no other way. This is further true in politics where the people in power have the ability to create their own rules in order to prevent competition. However, we as a people can change this by simply electing candidates from outside our political system... These are people who care about our county and are willing to address our most pressing issues in an honest and intelligent way... people who are not beholdng to their party or paid for by special interests.

Ben Franklin said that change can only come from one direction, from outside the system. Think about it. Every revolutionary change on the planet comes from outside the system. Just consider these recent examples.

- The iPhone didn't come from AT&T.
- Amazon didn't come from a department store.
- AirBNB didn't come from a hotel chain.
- YouTube didn't come from a TV network.
- Uber didn't come from a taxi company.
- Netflix didn't come from a broadcaster.
- Even Pornhub didn't come from Playboy!

If competition is good for all, then wouldn't it be good for our political system as well?

Just think about it, the approval rate for Congress remains between 10 to 20%, but the re-election rate hovers between 90 to 95%. How can the re-election rate be so high when approval rates are so low? The only way that this could happen is if the two parties actively prevent any competition. The rich are always talking about how competition benefits everyone, yet they donate $ billions to the two parties who actively fight to end competition for good.

~~RESET AMERICA~~ (Book: Reset America)

Reset America's 3 Goals

Our election process is corrupt and obsolete.

This brings us to to the question, "what do we do to fix this mess?" It's not enough to get the American people to understand the truth. The change that we desperately need requires us to act.

The first step in creating any useful change is to have a democratic election process. This means that we must be able to vote for whoever we want – not just insiders picked by the elites of both parties... It means that we must eliminate career politicians... and it means creating equal rules for independent candidates.

Given that these facts, our first goal is to convince all Americans to only vote for candidates who support these three changes to our election process:

1. Ranked Voting to eliminate the Spoiler Effect
2. Term Limits to replace Career Politicians
3. Equal Campaign Laws to give 3rd party candidates an equal chance to be elected.

We're not saying that once we adopt these three policies that all our problems will go away overnight. What we are saying is that if we don't make these three changes first, then we will have no chance of ever altering this unsustainable trajectory that our nation is headed.

What are the 2 parties afraid of?

If a candidate is elected and they do not pursue these 3 changes to our election process immediately, then we vote for a new candidate in the next election. We keep doing this until we have a Congress that is working for the people and not themselves. We don't know how this can be made any simpler.

Next, we encourage people to make a list of values that they want to see in their own elected officials. Each person's list will be different, but it doesn't matter. All we ask is that you only vote for candidates that meet your conditions and not blindly vote for who the herd says that you should vote for.

Then we plan to persuade candidates to publicly endorse our own list of principles. We call this the Reset Principles. If a candidate swears to support these conditions, then they may proudly display the Reset America logo in all their promotional materials. By doing this, voters can easily identify which candidates are pro-competition and which are not.

~~If a politician pledges their support for these principles, and they don't try to make them happen in their first year in office, then we simply vote for new candidates who will. This will motivate them to do the right thing if they wish to be re-elected.~~

It can't get easier than this.

The issues don't matter.

Everyone has their own specific issues that are important to them, but whatever your cause, you will not achieve your goal under our current 2 party system.

The only chance that you will ever have to achieve your particular goals is to join together towards our common goal of creating a democratic election process. It doesn't matter what we want to see changed in Washington. It's a complete waste of time, money and energy to debate policy on any issue until we hold our leaders accountable... and this starts by changing how are leaders are incentivized.

The Reset America plan does not embrace any specific issue (other than resetting our election process of course.) We purposely don't take sides or even care about how you feel about any partisan issue. You can be democrat, republican, liberation, green, pro-clown, or anti-clown. Our goal is to unify all people around our common desire to take back government from career politicians and the Washington establishment.

We must fix the core problem first.

We don't care what your issues are. We only want your life and your goals to be in your control. For us, the only issue that's important is what we can do to change the system.

Whatever is your particular concern, no changes are possible under our current system because it was built by the same people who profit from it.

Let's use global warming as an example. There has never been a greater threat to our species and planet than global warming. Fortunately, we know what we need to do to address this crisis, but unfortunately, these changes will never happen while a majority of our legislators have some level of interest in the success of energy companies. You may think that our most corrupt 'leader' is a republican, but you would be wrong.

Joe Manchin is a democrat congressman who is single-handedly holding up important legislation that will combat the dangerous effects of global warming. Is he doing this because he thinks that this is best for the US? You tell me. Manchin chairs the Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources. It is a key position in ensuring our country pursues more climate-friendly policies – but he is adamantly opposed to addressing the effects of global warming.

Here's why. He and his family own a coal company, Enersystems. Last year alone, he was paid $491,949 in dividends, which is a fraction of the over $5 million that he's been paid thus far from his business. He also receives the most funds from the oil and gas industry with 'donations' from fossil fuel PACs exceeding $1.6 million from May 2020 to May 2021.

They're supposed to be public servants, not servants to themselves.

Find spot

Politicians are elected to office to solve our problems, not to be the problems.
 "This is so ridiculous. Please tell me that I'm on the Truman Show." Mike Gozian

As if this isn't bad enough, Manchin can trade stocks based on the decisions his committee makes and how he votes. But he's not the only legislator who is guilty of insider trading and bribery. All members of congress are allowed to trade srocks, options and futures based in information gained from doing their job. The majority of congress supports policies that benefit themselves, while jeopardizing our future. Worst of all, this is all legal.

Is there any more obvious conflict of interest? Regardless of which 'side' you're on, please say that you believe that this is wrong. If you're desperate to latch onto a conspiracy theory, latch onto this one (only this is not as theory!)

We must put our differences aside and work together.

The only chance that you will ever have to achieve your own particular political goals is to join together to achieve our common goal of creating a democratic election process.

So, as you can see, we cannot address global warming while congress is owned by the energy industry. But this isn't true for just this one issue, here are other issues important to people and why change won't happen under our current system.

- You can spend your life trying to end wars but how can we possibly have peace when so many people profit from war?
- You can fight for election reform but both parties are terrified that voters will look outside the 2-party system, so they make it impossible to compete fairly.
- You can be an advocate for holistic medicine but some of our nation's biggest lobbies are big pharma, health care and insurance.
- You can protest against unlawful convictions but in our justice system, everyone down the line, from law enforcement to prosecutors to judges to prison officials, are incentivized to keep more people trapped in the system.
- You can be an advocate for buying local but small businesses don't stand a chance when Congress is controlled by big business.
- You can try to expose government waste but the entire Washington establishment profits from excess spending, expanding control and the exchange of favors for jobs and jobs for sale.
- You can fight for campaign finance reform but the entire system is about re-election and fundraising, and with a 90% re-election rate, why would the 2 parties want to make any changes?
- You can encourage personal savings but how are families expected to reduce their debt when our government incentivizes borrowing and discourages savings?
- You can fight for social justice but how can congress understand the needs of the disadvantaged while most of its members are old, white, rich, male, career politicians?
- You can fight for term limits but we don't stand a chance of ending career politicians when Congress is able to pass laws regulations that directly benefit themselves. What ever happened to checks and balances, or conflict of interest?

Get the point?

These are all worthy causes – as well as hundreds of others - and we commend you for being involved. But regardless of what you want, nothing will change while career politicians are benefiting from the system that they created. This is why it is vital that all people, regardless of the issues, unite over our common goal of electing legislators who are not for sale.

The Book: Mistaken Beliefs

Can this change happen? Yes, but first, we need to understand the reasons that are preventing it. These are the hidden causes that stop us from creating the very change that we want. These obstacles are the result of 'mistaken beliefs' that we embrace as a society. These beliefs are terribly wrong, and they effect how we think and act. In the book, we reveal the real problem in government, and it will probably surprise you.

There are never just two sides to an issue.

What's more, there are never only two solutions to a problem. In fact, there are practical solutions that cost nothing to make happen, but these are not even considered because they don't help those in power. (Some of these are covered in the book, Mistaken Beliefs.) In contrast, the only solutions that are considered are those that help congress get re-elected which requires returns for favors and putting money in their pockets.

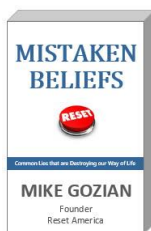

We need a second revolution now.

Literally any solution to any problem starts by having the courage and common sense to vote for candidates outside the 2 parties.

We fought a revolution to take control of our government from the British. It's time for us to take back control of our government from the 2 parties.

MISTAKEN BELIEFS

(Merged from misc sources)

Mistaken Beliefs

Dangerous Lies that are Destroying our Nation
by Mike Gozian, founder Reset America

Understanding the real problems.

It doesn't matter who is president or in power. You can have George Washington, Albert Einstein, the Buddha, and Tom Brady all combined into one person, but things won't improve under our current 2 party system.

The American People have had enough. We demand change.

People are furious. We desperately want change and, it turns out, we know what the problems are, and we even know how to fix them.

The biggest problem in our government is the failure of our 2 party system... so it's not surprising that every study shows that people from 'both sides' overwhelmingly want to add competition to the Democrat and Republican parties.

- 80% of voters want term limits for Congress, however, we re-elect the same politicians over 90% of the time.
- In the 2016 election, the two major candidates had the lowest approval ratings in history (Clinton with 41% and Trump with 33%), but less than 5% of people voted for a different candidate.
- 67% of people want active 3rd parties, yet we cling to the mistaken belief that says "voting for a 3rd party is a wasted vote." It is as if voting for a non D or R will cause our parts will fall off!

Our voting decisions are illogical.

So, if we know the problems and we know the solutions, then why don't we do what we know we must do? Why do we vote opposite to what we say that we need to do? For example, if we already have the ability to vote out incumbents, then we don't need to pass term limits.

How is this any different from saying, "We can't have dinner tonight because Congress hasn't passed a law saying that we can eat." We can have dinner without a law that allows us to eat, just like to can vote to end career politicians simply by not re-electing them.

The system is designed to prevent competition.

Congress has a 10-20% approval rating, but they have a 90% re-election rate. They only way that they can keep being re-elected is by preventing any competition. In the book, we expose the tricks that the Democratic and Republican parties use to stay in power and how the rules for 3rd parties are vastly different from the rules that the 2 parties make for themselves.

But before any change can happen, we must first understand the real reasons that prevent it... and these reasons are not what we think they are. These misunderstandings stem from mistaken beliefs. These are beliefs that were once true - but now the opposite of these beliefs are true. The Top 10 Mistaken Beliefs that we cover in the book are:

1. Voting for a 3rd party is a wasted vote.
2. There's a difference between the two parties.
3. We make logical voting decisions based on the facts.
4. The problems in Washington are caused by politicians.
5. We have democratic elections.
6. Economic data is clear and consistent.
7. We can solve any problem with enough money.
8. America is a rich country.
9. People don't care.
10. The American People are polarized.

Topics covered in the book.

The book reveals the truth behind these myths and how the 2 parties exploit these lies for their benefit. We show how these mistruths affect every aspect of our lives from business to government, foreign policy, the economy, the environment and how they prevent the real change that we all know and agree must happen.

1. The book proves that the changes that we must make won't happen by re-electing the same people and parties that got us to where we are today... and who profit by the system that they themselves created.
2. It will convince you to stop blaming Washington for our problems. Politicians are people – and people will always look out for themselves. So, who's really at fault... politicians who are merely being human and looking out for themselves or the people for giving limitless money and power to a small group and hoping that they don't manipulate the system over time to protect their way of life?
3. It shows why our voting decisions make no sense. It uncovers the unconscious psychological influences that determine how we think and why we vote opposite to what we say that we want. This includes herd behavior, brainwashing and cults, human behaviors and unconscious biases.
4. It explains why social media and disinformation campaigns are so successful in manipulating the opinions of people and why this is the cause of the extremism that we have today. It also defines terms that have been in the news recently, like gaslighting, cancel culture, tribalism, click-bait and how companies, the parties and the media play tricks to control what we think.
5. It exposes the criminal and unethical practices that the Democrat and Republican parties use to force out competition to maintain power and live in a different class.
6. It proves that the behaviors, actions, and most of the issues of the parties are exactly the 2 parties are same, and it explains why our election process is ranked the least democratic in the world. (Actually, we're tied for last... I was exaggerating for effect.)
7. It reveals many of the no-cost solutions to our worst problems that insiders don't want you to know about and why these solutions have no chance happening when getting re-elected is the only factor that drives every decision Washington.
8. The book explains which vote is truly the "wasted vote"... voting for the lessor of two evils or voting for the candidate who you would prefer to win the election. The truth is that a vote for a democrat or republican is the "wasted vote". In fact, it's worse than wasted because it supports a corrupt system that prevents the changes we need. If you plan to vote for a democrat or republican, then we are all better off if you don't vote at all!

9. It proves that opinions of voters from 'both sides' are not as 'polarized' as we are led to believe – especially when we look at our current situation from a 10,000 foot view.
10. It serves as a resource for 3rd parties and independent candidates. It provides useful data, talking points, and a standard definition of terms and slogans for the 3rd party movement. Anyone is welcome to use this information (so long as you obtain permission and if the material is properly sourced).

The Reset America Plan

Finally, it presents a simple and realistic plan to make all this happen in the next few elections. Our first, and immediate, goal is to convince all Americans to only vote for candidates who support these 3 policies... Term Limits, Rank Voting and Equal Rules for 3rd parties so that independent candidates can have an equal chance of be. It can't be any easier.

We reached a tipping point.

We've been living with these mistaken beliefs for too long. People are ready for change. Exposing the truth behind our corrupt election process and illogical voting decisions are the first steps in changing the dangerous trajectory that our nation is on.

There are simple, no cost solutions to some of the worst problems, but time is running out. We must take immediate steps to change the trajectory of our nation before it's too late.

Mike Gozian, Founder of Reset America

The book is written by me, Mike Gozian. (My legal name is Jingozian. I use a shorter name for the public to counter the effect of name bias. This is one of the many unconscious psychological influences which are covered in the book.)

In 2008, I ran for president. During the early stages of my campaign, I was the leading independent candidate even beating Hillary Clinton in some online polls.

The purpose of my campaign was to spread this message to the public. We achieved some major wins, like killing the national ID card program and exposing insider trading. Sadly, the real ID card was later re-introduced and past... and laws preventing insider training were reversed. (Did you expect anything different?)

In 2007, I produced a short video that exposed some of the ways that the 2 parties use to rig the system to maintain their grip on power. The video received the following awards for best political video:

- The Telly Award for Best Internet Commercial for Political Issues
- The W3 Award for Best Viral Marketing Video for Activism
- The Marcom Award for Best Political Web Video
- The Ava Award for best New Media Political Video

Let's be the change that we all want.

All people have in common the desire for honest and fair democratic elections, peace and justice, corrupt-free politics, a healthier society, protecting our planet and sustaining our way of life.

We must rise above the partisan bickering and polarization that the establishment fuels for their own interests and take a fresh look at how we wish to be governed as a people.

The Reset Principles

If you want to build a new house, but there's an old shack in the way, you must tear it down in order to build something new and better.

These are our Principles. What are Yours?

The Reset America Plan is about electing people who put our interests above their own. Our goal is to convince voters to only support candidates (from president to water commissioner) who pledge their support to values that are important to most people. These are ideals that we urge you to require from our legislators.

Here are our list of principles. How did we arrive at this list? From you. These were created from blogs, tweets and data about what we all want and what is possible.

Don't like our list? We invite you to make your own. Add your own principles on our social media pages. We just ask that you only vote for candidates who pledge their support to your list... and this means not be influenced by people who have their own motives and objectives.

Attention Candidates: Take our pledge

If you're a candidate or current legislator who shares these values, then accept our challenge.

If you pledge your support to these principles, then we will include your name and organization on our website and in all social media, press releases and so on. In turn, you may include the Reset America logo on all your promotional materials. You'll also have access to resources to help you achieve our mutual goals. There's only one catch. If you don't follow through in actively pursuing these principles, then we will tell the world of your lies.

Let's return to a democracy before time runs out.

1. Create an Honest and Democratic Election Process
 - I will not be affiliated in any way with either the democrat or republican parties.
 - I will work toward limiting the influence of political parties and special interest groups.
 - I will not worry about being publicly attacked because I know that I will need to make tough decisions.
 - I will work to create a more level playing field in the campaign and election process.
 - I will not let politics enter into any of my actions or decisions.

Is this worth 'wasting' your vote on?

2. Put other People's Interests and Sustainable Policies First
 - I will put the interests of the people of this nation and the world above my own.
 - I will not become a lobbyist after I leave office or use my influence for personal gain at the expense of the American people.
 - I will consider the long-term implications in every decision that I make.

Our loyalty to these two parties is undeserved.

3. Recognize the Urgency of the Problems and Focus on Solutions

- I will promote and foster a non-political, friendly, and collaborative environment.
- I will not be distracted by trivial issues and debates.
- I understand that there is an urgency to address the issues facing our nation.
- I will direct my attention toward implementing viable solutions that are available today and will work to implement these solutions before time runs out.

Is this too much to ask from our 'leaders'?

4. Cannot Lie, Exaggerate or Dodge Questions

- I will speak honestly about our nation's current state of affairs.
- I will not refuse critical interviews or dodge questions, except in matters of national security.
- I will present accurate estimates of economic, environmental, and social-impact projections.
- I will be honest about my relationships and reveal the sources of my campaign contributions.

This hypocrisy must end!

5. Eliminate Conflicts of Interest and Obey the Same Laws

- I will work toward eliminating the separate class that has been created by career politicians to live an easier life and avoid responsibility... and removing laws that gives to Congress any special treatment over regular citizens. The "government class" should not have an easier life than the average American.
- I will work toward eliminating the conflict of interest that was created by politicians to profit personally while in power.
- I will support legislation that makes it illegal for Congress to pass laws that directly affects them personally, such as: pay, benefits, election policies, campaigns... in other words, anything that could create an incentive for them to put their interests above ours.

What do you want from your representatives?

Don't like our list? Want to change or add to it? Let us know. We invite you to add to this list or make your own. Add your own principles on our social media pages... just be sure to hold our politicians accountable and not be negatively influenced by people who have their own motives and objectives.

Stop complaining. Take action instead. It's works better.

QUIZ
Let's Play 'Name the Guilty Party'

Still believe there's a difference between parties?
Take our Quiz, then decide.

The Democrat and Republican parties are really the same.

Do you still think that there's a difference between the democrat and republican parties? If so, then take our quiz. Here are some common behaviors of our so-called 'leaders'. Tell me, which party is guilty of these acts?... (1) the Democrats, (2) the Republicans or (3) Both?

- They spend money we do not have, thereby increasing our debt, to bribe the public, while they point fingers and avoiding responsibility for the current situation in Washington.
- They try to sabotage the policies of the 'other side' at the expense of our children.
- They spend money we do not have, increasing our debt, in order to bribe the public to get your vote.
- They point fingers and avoiding responsibility for the dismal situation in Washington.
- They live in a separate class that's out of touch with the American people.
- They won't support valid ideas from the other party unless it benefits them more.
- They lie outright about events, facts, projections and data.
- They use their position for personal gain and expanding their power and influence.
- They manipulate facts, public opinion, censor stories and lie to gain a political advantage.
- They're afraid to tackle tough issues, so they only address 'distraction issues.'
- They would rather see a program fail than to see their opponents win.
- They see the 'other side' as a competitor but not other nations.
- They are in a perpetual campaign that starts the moment they take office. Even now, Washington is in full-time campaign mode and all meaningful discussions about policy are on hold until after the mid-term elections. Is this the way our government should be run?

Are these actions best for our nation?

All of these actions come from events that have been in the news. These next 5 were added just recently.

- They use presidential pardons for fundraising and political purposes.
- They hate when celebrities are vocal about their political views, but they like it when the celebrities are on their side.

- ___ Their positions on issues are determined by their chances for re-election and not by what's in the best interest of our people.
- ___ They ignore critical issues because they're not politically correct, like the dreadful rise in depression and suicides, including the well-being of our veterans.
- ___ They manipulate the legislative process to block or pass unrelated legislation that furthers their self-interest.
- ___ They switch their positions on issues when the other party is in power or fail to support helpful positions (like treaties, etc.) because they were not supported by the other party or previous administration.
- ___ They are all re-active. There is no forward thinking or planning ahead on any issue. They ignore all problems until they get so out-of-control they are forced to acknowledge it. But instead of dealing with the issues intelligently, they throw a quick band-aid on it and pray it doesn't hurt their chances of reelection.

Should I continue or do you get the point?

Both parties know that they can get away with any unlawful activities because their opponent was guilty of the same actions. For example, democrats can't attack Trump on using pardons as a political tool since they all defended Hillary Clinton after she blatenly sold presidential pardons for personal donations.

We must stop being complicit and accepting this behavior.

Do any of these behaviors have anything to do with the merits of an issue? Is this how we should prioritize policy decisions? These are the people that we reelect and support year after year. It's time for a change my friends.

When you look at this hot mess from a 10,000 foot view, then we're not as polarized as we think. We all want change and all want this change NOW.

What other crimes are out there waiting to be exposed? Let's find out together. Help educate the American People by funding our documentary. We are quite confident that we can repeat the success of this video with our new documentary.

Get Involved in Determining your Future.

Please don't wait for things to magically get better by the politicians who promise change while they rig the system to stay in power.

I'd like to work with a group of folks who are passionate, hard-working, and agree with this message. This includes everything from producing our upcoming documentary to running the entire organization, Reset America.

To start, we need social media experts, podcasters, bloggers, YouTubers, and other motivated patriots with experience managing Patriot and kick-starter campaigns.

I'm not going to live forever, and it would be a terrible shame if this message died with me. Plus, it's much more enjoyable working with other committed individuals. (That is, people who are committed, and not people who should be committed... although, in our case, one doesn't preclude the other.)

Please contribute your time or money.

To do all this, we need your help. Please contribute to Reset America. But we are not asking you to contribute more funds than you already donate. Take a fraction of what you normally give to the Democrat and Republican Parties and redirect those funds to help organizations dedicated to abolishing our 2 party system.

Luckily, your donations go a long way. Our message sells itself, so we don't need much to get the message out. The average cost per vote for the 2 parties, is $20, but the average cost per vote 3rd parties is under $3.00 (It costs more if you lie and cheat.) Also, there are many states where you can make a $50 donation ($100 per couple) and get back an equal tax credit. This means that your donation will cost you nothing. Oregon is such a state.

Working with the media

Surveys, Polls & Questionnaires

Each time we see a poll that doesn't include 3rd parties, then we alert our response network. Two excellent examples of this are Amnesty International and Public Breastfeeding. Whenever a major human rights violation occurs anywhere in the world or a woman is denied the ability to breastfeed, an army of volunteers floods the mailboxes, phones and social media of the offending party. It works, plain and simple.

Amnesty International and Breastfeeding

There is a very easy and no cost way to spread this message. It is to require all polls, surveys and questionnaires to include all independent candidates and 3rd parties.

There are countless polls circulated online, but most only mentioned the top 2 parties. The media doesn't recognize independent candidates because "they don't stand a chance"... but the danger is that this thinking becomes a self-fulfilling prophecy. Just by having other options listed makes a big difference in how we are perceived by the public. By having independent candidates and 3rd parties be visible, voters will be reminded that they have other options, and other non-2-party candidates will be encouraged to run for office.

But it's not like we need to twist arms. Most people in the media are regular folks who care about our future too, and when they hear this message, they realize their oversight and quickly do the right thing.

Help spread this message.

In the meantime, forward this message to all your friends – especially contacts in the media, bloggers, commentators, celebrities, artists, musicians, Youtubers, and anyone who looks like Benicio Del Toro and sounds like Billy Crystal (wait... that's Mike!)

"People who fight the establishment sacrifice both their reputation and livelihood. But I'm not quitting. I'm just a crazy enough shit to stick to my principles and I'm hoping that you do to. The frustrating reality is that if I spent a fraction of my time and money on furthering the democratic or republican agenda, then I'd have a bridge (or at least a rundown alley) named after me by now." Your financial help will help us complete these projects before the midterm elections. We can't afford to let more time pass by.

LETTER TO CONGRESS

Attn: Current D&R Legislators

If you really care about our great country, then resign from office immediately and endorse the Reset Principles.

It's time for you to put our nation first.

Dear Current Members of Congress,

Let's face it. Our system is broke. It's broken so bad that it can no longer be fixed. We need to build something new. If you don't agree, then you're lying, or you lack the intelligence to do your job.

~~You put your hand on the Bible and swore to uphold the Constitution to our once great nation. Then, overtime, forsake that promise for world of bickering and personal gain.~~

Be a real 'Leader'.

No one expects you to own-up to the fact that your 2-party system is at fault. Very few people have the courage to change a system that propelled them into a powerful and separate class. No, I expect you to fight tooth and nail against a multiparty system – a system that supports policies that help people and not the special interests who pay for your campaigns.

Your colleagues are jumping ship... why don't you?

A record number of your Democrat and Republican associates have given up altogether. (I wanted to include a list of legislators who announced plans to quit Congress, but the list grows almost every week.)

Justin Amash is a former Republican congressman who quit congress and the Republican Party because of our failed political environment. He said...

"Both parties mislead, misdirect, employ double standards, and lie. When you point this out, each side attacks you for suggesting their team is anything like the other team. Wake up, partisans—you are a mirror image of the other side, just with different biases and blind spots."

Former Presidential Candidate Andrew Yang just quit the democratic party and plans to create a new party called the Forward Party. I'm thrilled to hear that - but starting a party still doesn't solve our problems. He will still face all the obstacles that all 3rd parties face.

But there is one way to keep your job. Pledge your support to the Reset Principles and if your constituents feel that you obeyed these principles, then you may be re-elected. This is a real once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to go down in history, alongside our founding fathers, Ben Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, Sam Adams, George Washington – and the millions of people who sacrificed and died to give future generations a chance to live a better life.

Like it or not, this change is coming. You can either be a patriot with the reputation of a Founding Father or a traitor with a reputation of Benedict Arnold. The choice is yours.

Signed,
The American People

Now, go do the right thing.

PS... If you are a former democrat or republican, and you agree with this message, then please contact us. With your leadership, we can return our national back to a true constitutional republic based on fair and equal democratic elections. That's all any of us want.
